

The Chicago Chapter of the American Recorder Society

presents our Spring Workshop

The Art of Affetti

a Musical Mosaic through Time with Cléa Galhano

Cléa Galhano, an internationally renowned performer, teacher and clinician, has been a featured soloist with The Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra, New World Symphony, and the Lyra Baroque Orchestra and has performed at music festivals worldwide. She studied recorder in Brazil, at the Royal Conservatory (the Hague) and at the New England Conservatory of Music, earning a Fulbright Scholarship. She is currently the Artistic Director of the St. Paul Conservatory of Music, Director of the Recorder Orchestra of the Midwest, and is a faculty member at both Macalester College and the Jacobs School of Music at Indiana University.

Join us as we learn to put more life in our music, using gesture, articulation and phrasing to interpret Spanish rhythms, playful Irish dances, and to use robust Italian “affetti”, or “musical passions and feelings”, to explore music from the European Renaissance and Baroque to contemporary Brazil.

Saturday, April 13th - 9:30 to 4:00
